OCCCA is pleased to announce an art retreat and workshop, The Path to Creativity:

Art and Awareness. Your guide will be artist Dalibor Polivka. Come relax in OCCCA's beautiful gallery space. Via instructed meditations, and experimentation with art mediums, unveil your creative potential. Discover your inner artist. Explore mark making, and its personal meaning.

Workshops will take place in the main gallery. With a friendly group of artistically inclined participants, we will develop contemporary concepts of form, content and context, while rediscovering beauty, beyond the market place and academia.

FORM. Take on the power of dot and line; experiment with mediums; develop a vocabulary of formal elements.

CONTENT. Explore relationships between elements; discover inspiration from within; assign yourself a personal theme.

CONTEXT. Build on what you've done, and ease into further development of your personal practice.

"There are many ways to be an artist."

— Dalibor Polivka
